

Use winner's strategy in the most volatile market in the world

There are two main strategies for managing funds in Forex market:

1- speculation strategy

In this system trader forecasts the trend of price, opens positions and manages them. There are lots of sources for this strategy because more than %90 of the traders use this strategy and for FX market behavior no one could forecast the trend of the currency prices in short term; this is the exact reason that why %90 of the traders in this market are Losers.

2- Hedge strategy

In this strategy we believe the market is non predictable so should have positions in both direction (up and down) so in either direction a part of our positions are in profit and in particular times when the profit is more than loss should be closed.

Hedge strategies in Forex markers have two main categories. Homo Pairs Hedge Strategy (HoPHS) and Hetero Pairs Hedge Strategy (HePHS).

HoPHS

In this strategy trader go long and short at the same time with the same Lot on ONE currency such as GBP/USD and closes one position in profit and waits till the other position turn to profit.

This case has more risk because in particular period of time you are in none hedge condition and it could be speculation strategy at last.

HePHS

In this strategy traders open pair positions in several currencies, long and short in direct currencies and long and long or short and short in indirect currencies.

For example GBP/USD long & EUR/USD short at the same time and same lot size. The Sum of the P/L of these two positions changes and when the total Sum of these two pairs reach to a specific profit, trader closes both positions at the same time. So in this strategy positions are always in hedge condition and have very low risk than other cases.

Based on Hetero Pairs Hedge Strategy (HePHS) FX-Hedgefunds Inc. offer 3 format of investment in Forex market.

FIP Fixed income Program %3 monthly profit %36 yearly.	IHFP Indirect Hedge Funds program %7monthly profit.	HFP Hedge Funds Program %7 monthly profit.

Indirect Hedge Funds Program (IHFP)

In this program investors should open an account in their name with our recommended Brokers for IHFP with more than $5000 and open positions based on our offers via chat. But trader should close his positions when the total profit hit target.

In this program traders manage their accounts themselves and brokers deduct %30 of monthly profit for all closed positions automatically.

In our experience the net monthly profit for investors has been more than %7.
